

Product Manual for Pillow Talk - Kinky

Kinky should come with a small initial charge and will be travel locked out of the box. If it does not have a charge, charge it using instructions in the charging section below.

Travel Lock:

Quickly press the crystal button 3 times until you feel 2 vibrations.

ON/OFF:

Turn the vibrator on by pressing the crystal power button. The LED light will light up when the vibrator is on. While it is on, you can turn it off at any time by pressing the crystal button once.

How to Use:

“Press and Hold” the crystal button to increase the intensity of the vibration.

Choosing Your Vibration: Kinky features 2 vibration points that can be used simultaneously, alternating between one another or each on their own – depending on your mood. Choose which vibration source to use by quickly pressing the button on the front of the handle. The vibration sources will cycle in this order: Shaft and Clitoral > Clitoral only > Shaft only > Alternating between both sources.

Cleaning:

There is a cleaning brush included which will help you to properly clean the grooves of the metallic band and around the handle.

Note: Pillow Talk® items are water resistant. Wipe clean with a damp cloth and toy cleaner or warm, soapy water. Do not submerge.

Charging:

Insert the pin of the USB cord into the self-sealing charge port on the side of the product and then plug the USB cord into a USB wall adaptor. While the unit is charging, the LED light will slowly flash.

When it has finished charging, the light will be solid. After charging is complete, the product will unlock automatically and be ready for use.
